Writing Culture of a Superior Kind

A collection inscribed in history.

Already at its launch in 1938, «ELCO James» epitomised writing paper and envelopes of supreme quality. If someone wanted to write something special «ELCO James» was the stationary that came to mind. In the eyes of many of our customers our premium range became synonymous with distinguished and cultivated writing. Having been offered under the name «ELCO Classic» between 1999 and 2008, this Swiss quality product is now again available under its traditional name «ELCO James».

For the important things in your life.

Its superior finish renders «ELCO James» the ultimate product line for personalised messages and valuable documents. Two different quality writing papers and lined envelopes offer refined elegance – design characteristics like softly radiating watermarks, respectable deckle edge or elegant colours for distinguished individuality. Indulge in this little luxury for your own correspondence or give it as a present and make someone else happy. Enclosed in its decorative box, «ELCO James» is the perfect gift. You can be sure that whatever is recorded on «ELCO James» will leave a permanent impression.
